Unusual Accident Sends Louis Hippie, Wife and Child to Hospital in City

HIPPIE'S LEG BROKEN

Leroy Benson and Sister Shaken Up in Second Accident Within City

Louis Hippie, his wife and child are in a local hospital suffering from injuries sustained in an unusual accident last night, when an automobile driven by Charles Lawyer collided head-on with a motorcycle driven by Hippie.

Reports from the hospital today said the injured were doing as well as could be expected. All are expected to recover. Mr. Hippie suffered a broken right limb below the knee, his knee cap was split open and he suffered two bad flesh wounds on the left limb as well as other bruises and possible internal injuries. Mrs. Hippie suffered a severe shock and her left hand was injured. The child's right hip was thrown out of place.

The accident happened on the Red Trail, just opposite the camping grounds about two miles east of the city, about 10 o'clock last night.

Other people in automobiles heard the crash and quickly drove up. The motorcycle, which was equipped with a side-car in which Mrs. Hippie and the child were riding, was smashed. It was thrown off on the north side of the road. Mr. Hippie lay under the wreckage. Mrs. Hippie was about 10 feet away, clapping her little three and a half-year-old girl in her arms.

E. J. Gobel and Charles Willis assisted in caring for the injured, and F. W. Murphy brought them to a hospital, where medical attention was given.

Early this morning an automobile skidded in front of 537 Seventh street and smashed into a curb, Leroy Benson and sister were in the car. The girl was shaken up badly and taken into a neighbor's house but neither she nor her brother were injured. The automobile was badly smashed, two wheels being broken.

Mr. Lawyer's version of the accident was that the motorcycle ran into his car. He said he was going slowly and that the motorcycle was coming with considerable speed. He asserted he had turned out and thinks the driver of the motorcycle lost control. Mr. Lawyer said his automobile engine and radiator were smashed.

Mr. Hippie, in the hospital asserted that Mr. Lawyer crowded him off the road.

Earlier in the evening Mr. Lawyer had settled a case before Police Magistrate Cashman in which Lawyer was charged with reckless driving by Nels Loven, who alleged he backed into his car causing damage. Mr. Lawyer denied responsibility. He agreed to pay damage caused the car of Mr. Loven.

While, with the absence of complete testimony in regard to the accident, there is no disposition upon the part of people generally to criticize any person, the accidents have served to center attention of people of the city on the fast driving on the "pen road" east of the city and on reckless driving in the city limits.

Within the last few days many complaints have been made of speeding on the "pen road" and several near accidents have been reported. Several narrow escapes and minor accidents have also been reported in the city.

Some drivers of automobiles complain that children are allowed to play on the streets in all parts of the city and that as long as this condition obtains the automobile drivers cannot be held responsible for accidents. On the other hand there are many who complain of reckless driving within the city limits and speeding.

Recently the city commission adopted a traffic ordinance, which made a radical change in the method of establishing the right-of-way at intersections. On the other hand there are many who complain of reckless driving.

REGISTER AND JONES ELECTED TO CITY BOARD

Chosen Members of School Board For Three Year Terms at Election Yesterday

WAS LIVELY ELECTION

Restoration of Commercial Course One of the Issues Of The Election

George M. Register and W. F. Jones were elected members of the city school board in the election held yesterday. The election brought out the heaviest vote cast in a school election in several years, a total of 2,376 votes being cast for all candidates, or about 1,200 individual voters. Each voter cast a ballot for two members of the board for three year terms each.

One of the issues in the election was the commercial course in the high school. Mr. Brown and Mr. Register favored the continuance of a commercial course.

The vote cast was: Men's vote, Geo. M. Register, 296; W. F. Jones, 292; T. J. Flaherty, 206; George Will, 199; G. M. Dullam, 202. Women's vote, Register, 278; Jones, 236; Flaherty, 173; Will, 268; Dullam, 236. The total vote was Register, 574; Jones, 518; Will, 467; Dullam, 435; Flaherty, 379. Mr. Will and Mr. Dullam are members of the board.

Mr. Register, asked for a statement concerning his policies as a board member, said that he was "going in with no axes to grind."

"I want good schools, will not be niggardly but want to get efficiency for the money expended. Being a high school and college man myself, and having three children in school, I am in favor of good educational facilities. I think the people ought to have the right to decide important matters of policies. If the people want the commercial course they ought to have it. I don't think the commerce course ought to be restored as an election promise, but it was an issue and it was known that I favor the course."

Mr. Jones said, "I wish to thank the people for the interest taken in the school election yesterday, and especially do I wish to express my appreciation of the work that was done in my behalf."

The newly elected members take office the second Tuesday in July.

OPEN CONGRESS ON IRRIGATION IN CITY TODAY

Delegates From Three States Will Participate in Discussions Here

HEAR FROM THE SOUTH

Letter to Congress Says North Dakota Dirt is Farmed Each Year in Louisiana

The fourth Irrigation Congress in North Dakota opened this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the state capitol with representatives present from North and South Dakota and Montana. The meeting will continue tomorrow.

The purpose of the Congress, which is to consider methods of proposed irrigation of comparatively small tracts of land in western North Dakota and similar tracts if available in South Dakota and Montana and to induce congress to make surveys and investigations to determine the feasibility of such projects, was stated by E. A. Williams, of Bismarck, president of the state irrigation association.

Representatives of the North Dakota state engineer's office, the state flood engineer, a representative of the Montana irrigation department and representatives from South Dakota were expected to detail work done in the past in the three states to encourage reclamation of land or to provide irrigation for the semi-arid districts. Expect 350 Here

E. C. Leedy and F. Benz, Immigration agents of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads, respectively, were among the speakers on the program. A large delegation of business men from various cities and towns in western North Dakota were here. The total attendance was expected to reach 350.

No set program had been fixed for the convention. Much of the work will be done by committees.

That the farmers of the lower Mississippi are probably farming North Dakota land is the statement of E. C. Collins of Memphis in a letter read here today before the Fourth North Dakota Irrigation congress. The letter went into the details of the attempts of flood control of the lower Mississippi.

"It has been established by geologists that the Gulf of Mexico once had an inland arm reaching up into the United States to a point where the Ohio now empties into the Mississippi," said Mr. Collins in his letter. This "arm" ranged in width from about a mile to fifty or sixty miles. Through many centuries of time it was filled in by the Mississippi rivers deposits—land skimmed from some thirty states of the great valley. Undoubtedly some of North Dakota dirt is being farmed in this region today. The process of filling in still is going on below New Orleans where it is estimated a mile of new land is created every 16 or 20 years.

"This 'made land' has an area of approximately 20,000,000 acres, or about the combined area of New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Connecticut and Massachusetts. It is bigger than Holland, Denmark and Belgium combined—twice as big as the Netherlands."

Mr. Collins indicated that he might give some of the data concerning crop yield on this land brought down from the upper reaches of the river, but for the fact that he might be considered a "dirt" liar.

Following his description of the flat lands of the made lands of the lower Mississippi, Mr. Collins went on to describe the levees which have been erected to guard this land against the water that still is rushing down toward the sea by this age old highway.

"On the West bank of the Mississippi," continues Mr. Collins, "the levees have a total length of 985 miles. On the East bank, the levees total 535 miles."

"Those on the West bank start near Commerce, Mo., above and cross from the mouth of the Ohio river. This line runs south 80 miles winding with the river, to just above Helena, Ark."

"There is a gap below Helena where the St. Francis flows into the Mississippi. From this point another stretch of the embankments extends 74 miles where the combined Arkansas and White rivers empty into the Mississippi. Levees here have been built back up the Arkansas for quite a distance to take care of the back waters when the Mississippi is high."

"From Arkansas City southward there is another continuous line of levees totalling 341 miles to the mouth of the Red River in Louisiana. This region there are short levee systems along the Red River and also the Atchafalaya river, chiefly to take care of back waters. The Atchafalaya, however, does not empty into the Mississippi, but is a problem in itself."

"Below the Red River and the Bayou LaPoudre, which is the Atchafalaya basin, there is a total of 127.1 miles of levees. From LaFourche to the Gulf is the remaining portion of the Mississippi, but is a problem in itself."

"Below the Red River and the Bayou LaPoudre, which is the Atchafalaya basin, there is a total of 127.1 miles of levees. From LaFourche to the Gulf is the remaining portion of the Mississippi, but is a problem in itself."

LABOR LEADERS PREPARING FOR A VOTE STRIKE

Wage Cuts of $100,000,000 Basis For Ballot to be Taken Among Railroad Men

STRIKE POSSIBLE JULY 1

Ballots on Whether or Not There Will be Walk-out Are Returnable June 30

Cincinnati, June 7. (By the A. P.)—Strike vote calling for the vote of the 400,000 railway shopmen of the country on the separate question was ordered by the executive council of the six-shopcraft unions here today. Instructions were sent by B. M. Jewell, head of the shop unions, to headquarters in Chicago to expedite the printing and distribution of the ballots with all possible speed.

Chicago, June 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Strike ballots returnable June 30 went out today to railway employees affected by wage reductions ordered by the United States railway labor board.

Paralysis of the nation's railroads July 1 loomed as a possibility as a result of the reductions which have already slashed $100,000,000. The wage cut is effective July 1.

Meanwhile the board is preparing to hear disputes this month between shopcrafts employees and some of the railroads over alleged unauthorized wage reductions.

WILL TAKE 30 DAYS

Cincinnati, June 7.—Labor leaders here expressed the opinion that it would take at least 30 days to spread and canvass the strike vote authorized yesterday by 11 railroad brotherhoods and organizations.

In a formal statement it was made plain that no agreement was reached for concerted action.

BROOKHART IS G. O. P. NOMINEE

Progressive Wins Decisive Victory in Iowa

Des Moines, Ia., June 7. (By the A. P.)—Non-committal acceptance at Washington by Senators Cummins and Rayson of Iowa of the news of United States Senator Brookhart's landslide for United States Senator aroused speculation in Old Guard circles here today as to how Brookhart will fit in to the Republican party machinery.

Returns from 2,235 Iowa precincts out of 2,348 for the Republican senatorial nomination emphasized the progressive victory, giving Brookhart 41 percent of the total vote cast and sent Clifford Thorne, another progressive, into second place above Charles Fickett, the Old Guard Republican candidate. A silence reigned today concerning the plans of the state Republican organization for the ensuing campaign against the Democratic nominees.

PROMISED SUPPORT

Washington, June 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Republican organization support for Smith Brookhart, nominated as the Republican candidate for United States Senator in Monday's primary in Iowa, was pledged in a statement issued today by Senator McCormick, of Illinois, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee. Brookhart defeated the commonly known organization candidate in the primaries.

Nomination of Brookhart was declared by Chairman Hull of the Democratic national committee today to be "even a more emphatic repudiation of the Harding administration and the Republican congress than the vote for Beveridge in Indiana and Pinchot in Pennsylvania." He added that "Col. Brookhart stood for definite policies for which the administration is opposed while the vote for Beveridge and Pinchot were largely votes of protests."

HEAVY SHOWERS IN WESTERN N. D. AID TO CROPS

Rain Falls Generally in Western Part of State from Bismarck to Beach

ALSO NORTH TO CANADA

Crop Conditions Reported Favorable in Week-end Summary Of Weather Bureau

Heavy rains of immense benefit to growing crops fell in southwestern North Dakota yesterday afternoon and last night, according to reports to the Weather Bureau and private advice.

Rain started in the western part of the state yesterday afternoon, it was reported. Showers fell last night in Mandan and west. New Salem reported unofficially a rainfall of 1.28 inches, the heaviest reported in the state. The rain was needed there, it was said. Rain was reported as far west as Beach.

The Interstate Transportation Company received reports that rain extended as far north as the Canadian line, there being rain at all points between Bismarck and Minot, and rain at all points between here and Linton.

The weather bureau's report shows 1.08 inches rain at Jamestown, the heaviest rain reported. Up to 7 a. m. 26 hundredths of an inch had fallen in Bismarck. Dickinson reported 32 hundredths of an inch and the Dunt Center report had not been received.

The rain also broke the heat wave, although a hot night was reported, with the lowest temperature 62. The weather summary for the week ending June 6, issued today, says regarding crops: "Weather conditions were generally favorable though rain is needed in some sections in the west portion. Corn has good stand and color and cultivation is well advanced, but reports of damage by cut worms continue. The condition of spring wheat and other small grain is generally good. Good rains last week put gardens and meadows in excellent condition."

No rain fell in the immediate vicinity of Fargo.

INCOME TAX OF STATE SLUMPS

Corporation Yield Is 75 Per Cent Less Than in 1921

A remarkable decrease in the yield of the state income tax on corporations is reported in first compilations made by the state tax commissioner. The reports show corporation income taxes reported for the year 1922 of $41,183.11 as compared with $312,164.60 in 1921.

A decrease is expected also in the individual income tax collections, which last year amounted to $61,372.12. It is indicated that the total amount of the state income tax this year will be less than $100,000. The tax is payable July 1.

One of the chief causes of the decrease in the corporation income tax, it is understood, is in the amount paid by railroads, which last year paid more than half the tax.

The Peruvians are understood to have rejected this condition. As a result of this rejection the conference ended in a situation which many diplomatic observers regarded as a virtual deadlock.

FARM HAND WHO ATTACKS WOMAN ENDS OWN LIFE

Bert Ulrick Hunted by Morton And Oliver County Farmers Is Finally Surrounded

HAD ESCAPED CUSTODY

Man Had Attacked Wife of Farmer and Returned to Farm When Beaten Off

Brought to bay by a sheriff, a party of sheriff deputies and farmer posse, men from Morton and Oliver counties who had been seeking him for two days, Mike Ulrick, ex-convict, last night shot and killed himself when surrounded.

The man on Thursday last attempted to assault Mrs. Bert Mills, wife of his employer and was later arrested. Saturday he was arraigned before a justice at Center and held to district court. Sunday he was in custody of a deputy sheriff pending an attempt to secure bail and was not in jail, Center having no jail. Sunday night he escaped and a search all day Monday was unavailing. However, Monday night he again appeared at the Mills home and was ordered off by Mr. Mills who threatened him with a shot-gun. Ulrick failed to heed the warning and advanced, Mills firing at him.

Secures Revolver
Tuesday he went to Mandan, drew $25 from a local bank, purchased a revolver, food enough for two or three days and returned to the vicinity of the Mills farm. At 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon he was seen to enter a patch of brush at a point where Mr. Mills was accustomed to water his livestock. The woman who saw him telephoned possumen who immediately surrounded the place.

Ordered to surrender he appealed to one of the men to go his bond and when refused stepped back into the thicket and sent a bullet crashing through his head.

Ulrick, aged 38, was sent to the state prison from Devils Lake a number of years ago for criminal assault. He served his term and was released. For the last two years he had been employed on the Bert Mills farm, located 16 miles north of the city of Mandan and about 3 miles north of the Massingham ranch.

He has two brothers and a sister living at Wadena, Minn., and at Minneapolis.

A coroner's inquest was in progress this afternoon.

SUPREME COURT ORDERS BANK TO REPAY COUNTY

Action of Treasurer of Burke County in Depositing Money
On Certificates Held Illegal

DECISION IS QUALIFIED

The supreme court, in a three to two decision, holds that Lawrence Larson, former treasurer of Burke county, was without authority in depositing $166,800 of funds in various banks of the county on time deposits shortly before he went out of office about April 23, 1921. The opinion is written by Justice Bronson, signed by Justice Robinson, and Justice Grace concurs. Justices Biragell and (Mr. Stanson) dissented on the ground that a mandamus action was not the proper action in the case.

The effect of the decision, which is to compel banks to turn back funds to the county and to compel the former treasurer to deliver cash instead of certificates of his successor, is somewhat mollified by the fact that many of the certificates of deposit have become due since the filing of the suit and have been paid by the banks.

The decision is somewhat mollified by the statement that Judge Lowe, of district court is affirmed, subject to the right of the defendant bank, which in the test case was the First National Bank of Bowbells, to make full payment to the present county treasurer, or to the right of the county commissioners to direct the deposits of county funds concerned and involved, all within a period of 15 days from the time remittitur is filed in the proceedings. Neither party will recover costs on the appeal.

The First National Bank was a legal depository, Judge Bronson holds, and as such was quasi-official in character. He holds that monies placed on time deposit in the various banks by the former county treasurer were really, in law, deposits payable on demand; that the county commissioners had no authority to place such deposits upon time deposits for a period of more than one year.

Held Method Wrong
The dissenting opinions held that the real object of the suit was to compel the county treasurer whose term of office had expired to make restitution of certain monies which he had placed on time deposit, and that a mandamus action was not the proper action.

The case of the state ex rel C. J. Kopriya, county auditor of Burke county, against Lawrence Larson and First National Bank of Bowbells came to the supreme court on an appeal by the defendant from the court of District Judge J. C. Lowe.

The action, Kopriya represented, was brought upon an order received by him from the state auditor to compel the defendant to turn over to the present county treasurer of Burke county funds belonging to the office, the case being a mandamus action. This case was one of 13 actions commenced against the outgoing treasurer of Burke county and banks who had received county funds.

The Alleged Deposits
It was alleged that three or four days prior to the time the former county treasurer went out of office, or about April 23, 1921, he deposited a total of $166,800 of funds of Burke county for periods of time from three to 19 months taking certificates of deposit from the banks. The particular bank in this action received $169,000, it was stated, of which $15,000 was in certificates falling due Dec. 1, 1922.

When Larson was succeeded by Treasurer Jensen the latter demanded that Larson pay him cash, refusing to accept the certificates.

Judge Lowe issued an order against Larson, commanding him to deliver to J. R. Jensen, his successor as treasurer, $22,000 placed in defendant bank with interest accumulated and that the bank honor checks drawn for this amount.

The appellants hold that there was no evidence of collusion between Larson and the bank, as alleged, in order to retain funds in the bank. It says that all the money was deposited by Larson in accordance with advice and consent of the Burke county commissioners.

The appellants hold there was considerable amount of money of the county, for which there was no immediate use and that it was for the best interests to deposit the funds in depositories paying the highest rate of interest. The deposits were made at a time of the change of terms of office of county treasurer, after an initiated law had become effective making the deposit of funds in the Bank of North Dakota optional instead of compulsory on county officials.

6 LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES IN STARK COUNTY

Dickinson, N. D., June 6.—Thirty-two candidates have been certified by County Auditor J. L. Hughes for places on the nonpartisan county ballot at the primaries in June, this number having qualified for the ballot by filing nomination petitions thirty days before the election.

The last few days before filing only brought out one new candidate, A. S. Ward of Belvidere, deciding at the last minute to make the race for county auditor in opposition to J. L. Hughes, the present auditor. All of the other candidates to file had been announced previously.

The clerkship of the district court brought out the largest number of candidates, a total of four filing for this office. They are T. N. Hartung, E. M. Smith, Jacob Mack, and Frank X. Wanner. Four candidates for commissioner of the second district also filed, including John J. Loh, the present commissioner, Louis Petrika, Fred Hewson, Jr., and Chas. Colgrove, Sr.

For representatives to the legislature from the 31st district, comprising Stark county, there were six candidates to file, the three incumbents, Pius Kopp, D. E. Shipley, and C. H. Stark, and Herman Rabe, Chas. F. Merry, and Christ Eggers.

TO BLAZE TRAIL TO BLACK HILLS

Dakota Division Will Be Blazed By Minot Man

Minot, N. D., June 6.—A. F. Bacon of Minot is expected to complete the work of blazing the North Dakota division of the Metigoshe-Black Hills trail soon, blazing work on which started last year.

This lake connects Lake Metigoshe in the Turtle mountains with the Black Hills of South Dakota, via Bismarck.

Since being partially blazed last year, this trail, which goes by the way of Max, Coleharbor and Wilton, is proving a popular route, and taxi lines which ply their trade between the capital city and Minot use this trail exclusively.

Other factors which promise to contribute to the popularity of the trail, are the facilities that it affords as a principal artery to Canada, and also its importance as a thoroughfare in the section of the state which it traverses.

E. D. Ertesvarg, of Bottineau, who is president of the North Dakota division of the trail, has negotiated with provincial officials of Manitoba and plans have been outlined for having the trail continued from Lake Metigoshe into that province, and on to Brandon and Winnipeg.

Many persons are expected to pass over the trail this fall, when the official opening of the Bismarck-Mandan bridge over the Missouri river takes place.

As soon as Mr. Bacon completes his work on this trail, he will devote his attention to the International trail and then to the Parks highway, and according to a statement made this week, he expects the latter two trails will be blazed by the end of next month.

The International highway also runs through Minot, connecting Sherwood at the Canadian border with this city, and extending southwest through Ryder across the river into Beulah and then into South Dakota.

The Minot Association of Commerce handles the secretarial work for the International and Metigoshe-Black Hills trails.

ELECTION LAW IS IMPOSSIBLE OF OPERATION

Several of These Impossibilities
Have Been Called to Attention of Different Legislatures

NO RELIEF IS AFFORDED

North Dakota could not hold an election at any time if all the laws of the state defining election affairs were to be complied with, according to Maurice W. Duffy, Deputy Secretary of State and incidentally the official information bureau for the state capitol. So many duties are imposed upon different peoples and so many duties overlap that it is impossible for all officials to obey the law.

Taking just one item, it being the one under discussion when Mr. Duffy started observations concerning the election laws of the state, Mr. Duffy pointed to the laws covering the issuance of the publicity pamphlet. He had just been called on the phone with the information that the mailing list for some of the counties was not available.

To make up this mailing list, the laws demand that the assessors shall turn their report of the canvass giving the names of the voters into the county auditor thirty days in advance of the primary. The law also demands that the county auditor shall certify these names to the secretary of state thirty days before the primary. Because of the frequent changes in North Dakota the last year, especially in party affiliation, and also changes in residence, the personal tax lists are only lists that can give a complete list of voters and their addresses.

Ten days after the tax list is turned into the county auditor, the Secretary of state is compelled under the law to have these publicity pamphlets in the mail.

Assessors are Behind
The facts are that this year, in some of the counties, the assessors failed to finish their work by the first of the month, but if it were possible to obey the law, the county auditors and the secretary of state are under direction to prepare the lists of the 260,000 voters, more or less, in the state, address the number and get them into the mails all in ten days.

A good girl will address about 1,000 pamphlets a day. Therefore there are about 250 days work in addressing alone and in few towns in North Dakota can an efficient corps of workers be gathered together for a few days' work. This one fact alone shows how almost impossible it is to remain within the confines of the law, in the opinion of Mr. Duffy.

Most of the county auditors have elected to send in a list made up from the last year's poll books, and thus comply with a part of the law but not presenting the addresses of the new voters, or of the many postoffice changes that occur in the course of a year.

Other sections of the election law are as impossible of operation as the one that gives the county auditors a few hours at the best to prepare accurate lists of the voters of the state and the small amount of time allowed for the mailing of the publicity pamphlet.

Several of these impossibilities have been called to the attention of different legislatures, according to Mr. Duffy, but thus far relief has not been afforded the different officials. If some one should insist, reiterates Mr. Duffy, upon an absolute compliance with all the election laws of the state, no election would be held in the commonwealth of North Dakota.

HALLIDAY DEFEATS WERNER.
Halliday, N. D., June 6.—At the Werner ball diamond Sunday Halliday defeated that town's team by a score of 12 to 7. It was an interesting game until the last half of the eighth inning when Halliday began to pound the ball which resulted in the above score. A large crowd witnessed the game.

Baccalaureate Sermon Will Be Preached By Rev. George
Henry, of Grand Forks

Valley City, N. D., June 7.—Exercises pertaining to the Thirtieth Commencement of the Valley City State Teachers college will begin here Saturday, June 10, and continue until the commencement exercises are held, June 15. The first event will be the program given by the children of the training school. The program will be given in the college auditorium and marks the end of the training school year.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday morning by Rev. George A. Henry, pastor of the first M. E. church, Grand Forks, N. D. His subject will be, "The Master Word in the Christian Social Order."

Monday will be given over to the senior play, given in the college auditorium at 8 p. m. The president's reception will take up the hours from 8 to 6, the reception being in the recently acquired president's home of the college. The reception is given by President and Mrs. Allen to the graduation class, the alumni, the faculty and the friends of the college. The evening will witness the annual exhibition of the physical education department which will be given on campus and the annual music recital. The exhibition will begin at 7 o'clock and the recital an hour and a half later.

Alumni day will begin with the literary society reunion breakfast at 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning. The alumni business meeting will be held at 1:30 p. m. and the class day exercises will be given in the auditorium at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Special reunions of the classes of 1902, 1907, 1912 and 1917 are planned. The annual reception and banquet will begin at the dinner hour and following the formal function, informal affairs will be held in East hall and the women's halls.

The commencement address will be delivered by J. J. Pettijohn, assistant to the president of the University of Minnesota, his subject being, "New Ideals in American Education."

The graduation class is one of the largest in the history of the school more than 200 candidates for degrees and diplomas being present. For the first time in the history of the school the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education will be conferred. In view of the fact that students are graduates at the end of each quarter, the class of 200 is considered exceptional by the friends of the college.

How Levees Run
The levees on the East bank of the Mississippi begin at Hickman Ky. but run about 21 miles at this point, for there are bluffs the rest of the way almost to the Mississippi State line. Just below Memphis Tenn., the line again takes up, at fording protection to the great delta of the Mississippi one of the richest farming sections anywhere. This basin's protection comes from 310 miles of continuous levees. There is a gap just above Vicksburg, Miss. which is one of the present big problems facing the engineers. The Yazoo river empties into the Mississippi at this point and the chief source of trouble now is from the Mississippi backing up the Yazoo river so that a considerable acreage of land is flooded.

"From Vicksburg to Baton Rouge bluffs confine the river but from Baton Rouge to the river is a string of 200 miles of levees. This gives a total of 530 miles for the east bank of the river or a grand total of nearly 1,525 miles.

"No one knows what the levees have cost. For a long time the building of them was handled by individuals and communities. Until they got help, sections would be washed out and then rebuilt. Eventually, in 1917, government aid was procured. It is a conservative estimate, however, to place the cost of the present system at $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 or not a great deal less than it cost to build the Panama canal. The work is not complete. The upper half, perhaps, is 90 to 95 per cent up to the height and strength sought by the engineers. The lower half is only 3-4ths finished.

RAILROAD BODY TAKES STEPS TO REGAIN CONTROL

Will Ask I. C. C. to Vacate Order, Restoring Rate-Making
Power of N. D. Body

HELD MOST EFFICIENT

Commission Also Plans to Intervene in Rate Cases Started by Cities

Steps to regain control over intrastate freight rates and traffic have been decided upon by the state railroad commission and a tentative order of procedure drawn, it was said today by Chairman Frank Milhollan.
The action is regarded as an important move in the fight developing to remove alleged discriminations existing in freight rates within the state, and on intrastate rates as compared to other states.

Under the proposed plan of the commission it will ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to rescind its order against the North Dakota commission which denied increases in railroad rates in intrastate business comparable to increase in interstate rates ordered by the board and which will remove the cause for the restrain-ing order issued by the United States District Court which prevents the railroad commission from assuming jurisdiction in intrastate rates. The state commission will vacate its order of Dec. 14, 1920, denying the increases.

The method is considered the most effective for the commission to attempt to iron out the disparities that are said to exist in freight rates, in view of the recent material reductions in intrastate rates, it was said by members of the commission. As the situation now is, according to Chairman Milhollan, doing practically anything with railroad rates. Most other states have taken the action proper by the state commission, it was said.

The commission will intervene for the petitioners in the Fargo and Jamestown and other rate cases started by commercial bodies of cities, it was stated by commissioners.

The Fargo rate case was characterized by Traffic Expert Smart as the greatest step that has been taken to remove discriminatory rates, and an action that will ultimately benefit all of the state, if successful.

The Texas case, he said, will be a test case, and if the principle fought for by the Fargo Commercial club is sustained it will open the way for further actions.

The Texas railroad commission has entered into an investigation of lignite freight rates in that state according to word received by the North Dakota commission. North Dakota and Texas are the only two states having extensive deposits of lignite. The North Dakota commission, it was said, will keep in close touch with the Texas commission because the rate levels on lignite in both states were established by the United States Railway Administration in 1918.

The North Dakota commission is making a study of lignite shipping, the object being to determine if rates can be adjusted so as to remove discrimination alleged to exist between the mines due to location, and to develop long haul traffic in this commodity.

NO GAMBLE IN INSURANCE OF LIFE NOWDAYS

You May Take Chances With Your Span of Life, But Life Insurance Company Don't

CRISIERS VISIT PROVIDENT

You may gamble with your life in a fast automobile, on a train or in the way you live, but a life insurance company don't. You are ticketed for your final departure from this earth by a life insurance company when you take out your insurance, and though individually you may disap-point the man who tickets you, collectively you and your fellows have just about a certain number of years to live.

Members of the Town Criers club learned how a life insurance company never gambles, at the club meeting last night which was held in the offices of the Provident Life Insurance Company. Fred L. Conklin, secretary of the company, talked to club members on life insurance.

Life insurance, he said, originated in England when owners of sailing vessels desired to insure the lives of the masters. Their system of insurance was not founded upon scientific tables, naturally. Directors of the company would size up the risk and then decide upon the insurance. Indicative of the change in life insurance attitude, Mr. Conklin said the story is told in insurance circles that one tea-totaller applied for insurance.
The directors discussed seriously whether or not he was a good risk, since he didn't drink any liquor.

The first life insurance companies were formed in the United States about 1840, he said, and they had a difficult time getting established. Latter the mortality experience table system was built up and now through these tables life insurance companies are able to scientifically compute the expectancy of any given class of people.

Laws regulating life insurance companies require deposit of a reserve sufficient to care for all policies written at all times, he said, so that if the capital and surplus of a company were wiped out—the policy holder is protected.

Mr. Conklin spoke of the growth of the Provident Company in six years since it was established until it now has $7,000,000 insurance in force. The Provident is a North Dakota company. Records show that of all states,
Kansas has the lowest death rate,
South Dakota next and North Dakota third, and of all classes the farmer is the longest-lived. A North Dakota company, therefore, he said, insures the best. Most of the investments of the company, he said, are made in North Dakota property. Probably $50,000 a year is expended by the company in salaries and other expenses here, he said. The Criers were shown through the various offices of the company.

Spencer Boise took office as president of the club. There was discussion of the development of motor transportation business in North Dakota, the tourists camp and other business before the club.
Luncheon was served by Mr. Conklin.

SAYS RADIO IS GODSEND TO THE BLIND

Springfield, Ill., June 7.—Radio and the broadcasting of news and concert music through the air, was declared here to be a Godsend to blind persons by Charles E. Comstock, sightless from infancy, who heads the division for the visitation of adult blind, connected with the State Department of Public Welfare.
"The use of radio equipment by blind persons," Mr. Comstock said,
"is undoubtedly the greatest bless-

Saving and Serving

THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) stands squarely on the principle that the man who saves and invests is a better citizen as well as a happier and more useful employee than the one who lives "from hand to mouth" and spends his income as fast as he earns it.

To promote the habit of saving, and to insure that feeling of security in the future, which frees a man's mind from worry, enabling him to give all his energy to creative activities, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) a year ago put into effect, for its employees, a stock investment plan.

Under this plan an employee may save as much as 20 percent of his yearly wage. To every dollar thus saved the Company adds 50c. This money is invested in stock of the Company as fast as sufficient money accumulates to buy one share; for instance, if a man or woman saves $560.00 a year the Company adds thereto one-half of that amount, or $280.00, which will buy 10 shares at the established price for 1922.

Whether or not he takes advantage of this plan is optional with the employee.
The fact, however, that the majority of the employees who have been with the Company one year, or more, have availed themselves of the opportunity is convincing evidence that the plan meets a definite need.

Since the plan went into operation it has been apparent that the employees take a greater interest, not only in the work which engages their attention, but what is more important, in the service the Company renders the public.

This is not surprising, for a man with money invested has a stronger interest in a business, and a keener appreciation of his value to the community than a man who never has assumed this responsibility.

Therefore, this stock investment plan for employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an important factor in continually improving the service rendered the public by the Company.

It is but another evidence of the care and forethought exercised by the management in its endeavor to perfect an organization which shall render to the public a maximum of sustained service.

The Prosperity Crop

Today, as never before, the farmer wants to grow crops which are certain to yield good returns for his labor and investment.

The crop which will resist drought and other unfavorable conditions, and yield a crop when others fail, is AL-FALFA. Three crops every year of two tons each per acre, or a total of six tons per acre is a conservative average for GRIMM ALFALFA. It will continue that average for ten years or more, thus your investment in GRIMM ALFALFA SEED is negligible when figured on the basis of cost per ton.

When sowing ALFALFA, make sure of success by sowing GENUINE CER-TIFIED GRIMM ALFALFA SEED.
The cost is very little, if any more than for common Alfalfa, but the returns are greater and more certain.

Launder your silk underwear the gentle way that keeps it looking new

IT used to be rather a trial to go into the shops and see them—exquisite underthings of shimmering silk and delicate lace.

But what was the use, you asked yourself mournfully, of getting the adorable things only to have them ruined the first time they were washed. Silk is perishable, unless it is properly cared for; careless laundering will quickly ruin it. Just the suds from a harsh soap or harsh soap flake can affect delicate colors, and coarsen fine textures. Rubbing will rough up and fray the tiny, silk threads.

But with Lux it is so easy to keep your most charming things perfect, your very frilliest apple-blossom chemise, your nightdresses of corn and lotus pink.

The Lux flakes whisk instantly into a creamy, bubbly lather that gently lifts the dirt out. Lux suds are just as delicate as the perishable color or fabric—they can't injure anything that pure water alone won't harm.

The gentle Lux cleansing will keep your silk underthings fresh and new through innumerable washings. Get a box today from your grocer, druggist or department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

(Established 1873)

SHOWS UP FUTILITY OF STATE SOCIALISM

Silver Serungard in his letter to The Tribune shows up the utter futility of the mill and elevator at Grand Forks which Governor Nestos in his keynote speech states will be finished and given a fair trial. How this is to be done Governor Nestos does not explain and if done of what benefit it will be to the farmer is also unexplained.

Mr. Serungard who is running for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor on a platform opposed to continuing the state industries proves conclusively that the politicians are using the mill and elevator merely to bait votes.

In the first place as Mr. Serungard points out practically $5,000,000 is to be expended upon a mill and elevator to handle 4,000,000 bushels of North Dakota's wheat crop out of a possible 80 to 100 million bushel production in the state. Practical farmers know that the mill and elevator at Grand Forks cannot try out any marketing theory. They realize that its operation will bring no relief as far as bettering marketing conditions but will merely pile up the tax costs for them.

Governor Nestos knows this and so does Senator Baker who opposes him. Common honesty should prompt candidates to tell the voters that as far as demonstrating the value of state owned mills and elevators, the Grand Fork institution will prove nothing except a sink hole for public funds.

When Mr. Nestos tells the farmers that the Grand Forks mill will be ready for business next fall he is very careful not to say that it will be operated then. He should tell the voters of the state how the elevator is to be financed. Money derived from the sale of bonds cannot be used for working capital. How is capital going to be provided? A most interesting and pertinent question.

The Bank of North Dakota was established to be the fiscal agent for the various league enterprises. Money levied for specific purposes was used to promote the Drake institution, the Home Building fiasco, the Werner creamery and the farm loan business.

Is it the intention of Gov. Nestos to freeze up more public funds in promoting the mill and elevator at Grand Forks or will it be idle until after the next legislature provides an appropriation for working capital?

It is very easy for the politicians with an oratorical wave of the hand to tell the voters that the mill and elevator will be given a fair trial, but common frankness is necessary to apprise the voters whether or not their tax money levied for specific purposes will be used by the state to gamble in the mill and elevator business.

Governor Nestos and his associates and Senator Baker know that there is no money available to finance the mill and elevator business prior to the next session of the legislature unless public funds held in trust by the Bank of North Dakota are illegally diverted for that purpose and to do that would be to commit the same sin for which the league was condemned during the recent campaign.

It is barely possible that Gov. Nestos has a plan to finance the mill and elevator. If there is to be an honest attempt to operate the Grand Forks mill this fall, the tax payers who are stockholders in the project whether they want to be or not are entitled to know prior to June 28.

While Gov. Nestos deprecates what he calls the "ghastly failures" of the league, he can hold out no guarantee of better operations of state owned industries under his political control. The enterprises will fail as ignominiously under his regime as they did under the league's and there is no occasion to deceive the voters.

No one denies that the Bank of North Dakota is just marking time. It is not the intention of the backers of Gov. Nestos that that institution shall function as a bank. The head of its farm loan department will resign shortly following July first and his place doubtless will be filled by one of the faithful who can deliver the votes. Gang politicians such as Crawford and Diehl are now directing other state industries.

Senator Baker, the league candidate, is telling the voters that he too is going to give the farmers program a fair trial, but how he is going to get the money is left to the imagination just as Gov. Nestos leaves it.

Probably ten or fifteen millions must be levied to try out this program and the voters might as well know that now before they cast their votes to try out the program either in dead earnest or "experimentally" as the I. V. A. say. Put all the cards on the table and tell the voters that the election of Nestos or Baker means a very substantial increase in the tax levies.

After these facts are clearly placed before the voters and they love the program to the tune of ten or fifteen millions more in taxes no one can take offense.

It should be remembered too that the state has already sunk several millions in trying out the program a fact soft pedaled by the politicians.

Let the utmost frankness prevail in the discussion of the expenditures necessary to try out state socialism either under the Nestos or the Baker plan.

The other alternative to scrap the whole business furnishes the only relief from taxes and the only argument waged against such a program by the politicians is that it cannot win, but the day is coming inevitably when the voters of the state will rise up in their might and wipe out the whole business.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS

Bismarck is host today to delegates attending the Irrigation Congress which contemplates a survey in North Dakota, Montana and South Dakota. The outcome of the deliberations that opened today at the State Capitol may be far reaching.

Senator McCumber has introduced a bill providing for an appropriation of $100,000 to investigate feasible irrigation projects for North Dakota. It is expected that neighboring states will seek to have surveys made within their borders so that a comprehensive scheme can be worked out which will bring many thousands of acres under irrigation.

Citizens generally should take an interest in the work that has been launched. This section of the state is most vitally interested and every resident should be completely sold on irrigation for the vast stretches of the Slope country.

Other states which each year are inundated by the flood waters of the Mississippi and Missouri are deeply interested in flood control at the source where the surplus waters can be harnessed and put to good service for irrigation and hydro-electric purposes.

The deliberations and definite plans determined here will be watched with great interest. Of course the chief need now is the appointment of a federal commission to study intensively just what can be done along the major and minor streams toward irrigation and the generation of electricity.

A HEALTHY SIGN

Perhaps the most distressing feature about many elections to students of democratic government is that so many people do not vote or do not know just what they are voting for. Although the city schools use a large share of the city revenue and Americans have come to believe education is the most important factor in the making of the nation, often but a handful of votes have been cast at a school board election. Such was not the case yesterday. There were probably more than 1,200 people who voted. Much interest was taken in the election.

The successful candidates believe that one of the important issues involved was their attitude on the restoration of the commercial course in the high school, which they favor. While they constitute a minority on the board both have said they will seek to have the course re-established.

The voters made their choice and although every citizen should have cast a ballot, the number of citizens voting is a healthy sign of interest taken by the citizens in the conduct of their schools. It should continue beyond school elections even to attending a board meeting now and then. The widest possible publicity for school affairs is most desirable.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

CHURCH WELCOME

Letters of correspondents lament that the welcome at church doors is cold, colorless, perfunctory, official.

Sometimes it is. But it does not have to be. And many times the blame is as much with the stranger as with the pew-holder.

Every church worthy of the name wants to establish within doors an atmosphere of warm-hearted cordiality. Every church would like to give its greeting—so far as time and numbers permit—the intimate personal note. But it must have help. The church isn't a building and it isn't a business system; it is a social group with a religious inclination. Each member of the group puts something in or takes something out. The spirit of the church work and the form of church worship are what human beings individually make them.

The church depends on all who attend to do their part, and every church congregation must rely, to a considerable extent, upon the enthusiasm manifested by strangers. The stranger who puts himself in the way of the church welcome and doesn't hide behind a pillar or slink into a rear pew will generally get it. It must be borne in mind that some people resent the personal greeting at the church door as an intrusive familiarity. The welcome we get in church or out of it is largely that which we make for ourselves.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE MODERN SINBAD AND THE OLD MAN OF THE SEA

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

He knocked on the door.

Comet-Legs, enemy of Mr. Peer about, the Man-in-the-Moon, was always up to mischief. And no matter what the Twins did they never seemed able to catch him.

I don't suppose Comet-Legs was really wicked. He was jealous of the Moon Man, that was all, and besides he thought he could manage things much better.

Mr. Peerabout was trying to please folks all he could, but Mr. Busybody Comet-Legs wasn't satisfied.

Comet-Legs could get around places too, much better than the Moon-Man. He would straddle his shooting star, take a good hold with his bow legs, and off he'd go.

The night after he meddled with the handles the Moon-Man ran the moon with Comet-Legs went to the Weatherman's Star nearby.

He swaggered over to the house the Nuisance Fairies lived in (or rather where the Weatherman had them locked in) and knocked on the door.

"The key's outside," answered a dozen voices. "It's hanging on a nail."

Comet-Legs reached up and got it and turned the lock.

Such a hullabaloo as there was then, all the Nuisance Fairies crowding around and saying how-do-you-do, and how-was-he-anyway. There was Jack Frost and Howly Thunder and Jummy Lightning and Sizzly Dry Weather and Old Man Flood and a lot of others.

"Say, boys," said Comet-Legs, "I need your help. Old Mr. Peerabout has sent a couple of children after me. They've got a shaker with magic powder and if it touches my legs they'll get straight as poker and then I'm done for, because I can't ride my star."

"We'll help," they all cried. "Who are the children?"

"Nancy and Nick," said Comet-Legs. (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service.)

NOWHERE

By Berton Braley

There are moments when I sicken of complexities that thicken In this much-sophisticated day and age!

When the aims of life seem futile and my efforts all inutile Like the running of a squirrel in a cage.

Oh it's then I want to go where there's no rushing to and fro, where Trains and trolleys do not roar, nor autos whiz;

Where there's no one that I owe, where it's the Other Side of Nowhere, Though I haven't any inkling where that is!

There are times when work is zestless and the soul of me is restless For a change to something else than I have got;

When I want to—how I want to!—go some place I've never gone to, Where I'll find it—doesn't really matter what!

I would beat it, I would blow where I'd find a different kind of show, where There's a new and novel note that I can strike;

So I crave to up and go where it's the Other Side of Nowhere, Though I do not know at all what it is like!

Yet I fancy folks who grow where it's the Other Side of Nowhere Are illogically wishing they could Where I find myself at present; and they'd doubtless find it pleasant If they might—on some occasions—swap with me;

For the Other Man's existence seems entrancing—at a distance—Though perhaps I wouldn't like it, after trial.

But right now I want to go where it's the Other Side of Nowhere And just stick around and try it for awhile!

WHAT TO DO IF YOU'VE DECIDED YOU WILL TRY STAGE LIFE

By Brock Pemberton

One of America's Most Enlightened Theatrical Producers

The stage of America and of the world in varying degree is littered with incompetent men and women who would much better be measuring out ribbons or rice or driving a tractor but who, having felt the pulsing thrill from audiences beyond the footlights, have not the discernment or strength of will to forsake this most fascinating of callings in which they are misfits.

My advice then to young men and women about to choose the stage as a profession is not to do it until they have searched their souls and found there no trace of uncertainty as to their aptitude. For while the stage holds a deadly fascination for those who people it and is lavish in its reward for those it favors, it is unspeakably cruel to the incompetents.

Success in the theater is compounded chiefly of these ingredients—personality, talent, belief in one's self, and luck.

One must leave luck to the gods, though without it one may be abundantly endowed with the other three ingredients and fail.

In these days of school and other amateur theatricals it is fairly easy to test one's talent.

Only don't rely on what the immediate family says.

"All the world's a stage," a man who knew a good deal about both once wrote.

At the end of a home-talent show given in New York recently a well-known comedian who has been playing on Broadway for two years, said to one of the newspaper critics who had taken part: "I don't like this at all. You fellows did it so well it makes our job seem easy."

Everyone can get a little and the thing to determine is whether you can do it enough better than the others to make it worth while.

Luck, belief, talent, personality—and the greatest of these is personality.

With it your name may blaze in nitrogen lights; without it you will dust the furniture at rise of curtain or bear cards on silver salvers.

To determine whether or not you have it I commend you to your mirrors, your friends and your enemies.

Having made up your mind that the stage will be poorer without you, proceed to fortify yourself with the broadest cultural background obtainable through institutional and self-education. You cannot know too much of literature; you cannot speak too many modern languages, nor your own too well.

Equipped with the best education you can command, join a stock company in your part of the country, or come to New York and enroll in one of several good schools of the theater. Either procedure will give you the requisite groundwork and prove whether you should continue.

If you choose stock do not stay in the provinces too long but come to New York at your earliest opportunity and list yourself with several good agents and make the rounds of the producing managers' offices.

Then, if you are not dismayed by office boys and rebuffs and disappointments and Items One and Four are on your side, you will get a job.

If you really belong on the stage no role will be too small and no effort on your part too great to make the character live.

FARMER CHARGED WITH MURDEROUS ASSAULT

Fort Yates, N. D., June 7.—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Adam Hoening, farmer, for an alleged murderous assault with an iron bar upon Jack Schock, son of a neighbor.

Hoening is alleged to have struck the boy over the head with an iron bar. He was brought here to a hospital.

Today's word is PLEBISCITE.

It's pronounced—pleb-i-site, with accent on the first or syllable.

It means—a vote or a decree of the people on some measure submitted to them by some person or body having the initiative.

It comes from—Latin—"plebs, plebis," common people, and "scitum," decree.

It's used like this—"Chile refuses to agree to a plebiscite to settle her territorial disagreement with Peru."

BIG SHOW COMING TO BISMARCK MONDAY, JUNE 12.

Flaming posters, all the colors of the rainbow, throughout this section, proclaim the fact that Christy Brothers' Four-Ring Wild Animal Shows are to be seen in Bismarck, Monday, June 12.

Already the small boy and his elders are happy in anticipating the coming of this mighty tented amusement enterprise and its countless wonders. For this season the Christy Brothers have enlarged their shows in every department, and their greatly augmented list of performers, feature acts and menagerie exhibits made it necessary to add many more railroad cars. Today, special trains and long double length cars are required to transport the huge tents, ponderous wagons, cages, dens, chariots, tableaux, cars, elephants, camels, horses, ponies, men and women.

In the triple zoological gardens, combined under one vast spread of canvas, are to be found the finest living specimens of rare, strange and curious animals from every quarter of the globe, and every animal an actor. Making a visit to Christy Brothers' Trained Animal Exposition is of far greater educational value than will ever be gained by the deepest study of all the books at hand on the subject of natural history.

Inside the vast water-proof canvas amphitheater are four great rings and steel arenas encircled by a monster modern hippodrome track, overcapping all its veritable maze of flying rings, bars, ropes, wires and other aerial rigging.

From the beginning to the end of the performance, hundreds of men, women and animal performers cover the ground and fill the air in the rendition of a program, the like and equal of which have never before been seen.

Every child visiting the afternoon performance will be given a free pony or elephant ride, with special attendants to care for the kiddies.

STREETS OF BERLIN FULL OF BEGGARS

About 150 Learners Are Being Trained in This "Art" in One of the Suburbs

'COURSE' TAKES SIX WEEKS

Berlin, June 7.—Although public mendicancy is forbidden by law, the streets of Berlin are full of beggars who, especially after dusk, importune passersby with harrowing tales, some of which may be true.

Mutilated war victims, who exhibit genuine scars on the sidewalk, are always sure of public charity, but many others of the fraternity resort to more or less transparent tricks to excite compassion. About 150 learners are being trained in the art of begging, including "making up" in one of the northern suburbs.

The theoretical part of this course alone takes six weeks, and is followed by a practical course at race meetings and at doors of churches, theaters and cafes.

The city is divided into districts by the professionals, who place a certain number of certified pupils in charge, changes shifts weekly, and collects and distributes the proceeds.

Every day, it is stated, an average west-end district brings in about 3,000 marks. Certain favorite sections command premiums up to 500 marks per day.

These professional beggars are keen judges of human nature. Wealthy Russians are said to be their best patrons. Americans, on the other hand, are an everlasting puzzle to them. Sometimes, they say, Americans are extremely generous and hand out five, ten or twenty mark bills with princely liberality but others refuse to give anything.

STOCKHOLM SENS BETTER TIMES AHEAD

Stockholm, June 7.—Shipping tonnage is rapidly increasing in value throughout Sweden, according to the Stockholm press which comments on this fact as the most significant indication of returning optimism among shipowners.

Only a few months ago ships sold at 100 kronor (about $27) a ton. Later the price advanced to 180 kronor per ton for newly constructed ships, while now it is hard to purchase vessels at 300 kronor per ton. The Stockholm papers see in this rapid advance fairly sure signs of brighter prospects in the business world which means that shipowners feel certain that they will soon have ample use for all their vessels.

MARKETS

WHEAT SCORES UPTURN

Chicago, June 7.—Wheat scored a moderate upturn early today, traders' attention being given chiefly to relative firmness shown by the Liverpool market. A dry section which apparently was developing in the spring crop belt attracted considerable notice, however. Initial prices which were slightly higher were followed by further gains.

Subsequently apprehension increased regarding dry weather in the Northwest, besides export demand here was stronger. The close was firm 1-3 to 2-14 cents net higher.

STEVEN'S WILL INVITE GUESTS TO GOAT AUCTION

Delaven Lake, Wis., June 7.—Preparing for the babies in the next 100,000,000 increase of the United States population who he predicts will bring a demand for more goats than can be raised, Charles A. Stevens, wealthy Chicago business man is breeding the "Clunderella" of the American barnyard. Mr. Stevens plans to invite distinguished visitors to a goat auction on his estate at his fashionable summer resort June 24, at which he will dispose of a herd to twelve other persons who are also starting in to develop goats for their milk. These twelve also are said to be wealthy. The auction is not confined to these twelve but no other bids are expected.

The invited guests will include railroad officers who have charge of agricultural promotion on their lines, presidents of leading agricultural colleges, prominent physicians, including baby specialists, together with officers of infant welfare organizations, sanatoria and kindred institutions and agencies. The sale will afford opportunity for the study of milk goats and methods of breeding.

The construction of the Panama canal cost the United States $350,000,000, exclusive of fortifications.

TENDLER WINS BY KNOCKOUT

Defeats Bobby Barrett Before Huge Crowd

Philadelphia, June 7.—Low Tandler of Philadelphia last night knocked out Bobby Barrett of Clifton Heights, Pa., in the sixth round of their scheduled eight-round bout at the National League baseball park in the presence of more than 20,000 spectators, one of the biggest crowds that ever saw a boxing match in Philadelphia. The knockout came toward the close of the sixth round.

In the first round after a cautious start, Tandler drove into Barrett with a series of swings to the body, and several sharp jabs to the face. Before the close of the round Barrett was bleeding from the nose and as the gong sounded Tandler had his opponent well on the run.

Barrett tried his vicious swings in the second round but Tandler was too fast for him, Barrett's blows missing their mark on each occasion. Tandler did little but jab Barrett in the face with his right in this round.

Barrett Hard Hit.
In the next two rounds Tandler forced Barrett to take a lot of punishment. The Philadelphia fan kept jabbing with his right to Barrett's face with an occasional slashing uppercut that had his opponent bleeding freely from the nose and mouth when the third round ended.

The fourth was a repetition of the third with Barrett attempting more of his wild swings, none of which landed. Tandler in the meantime continued to hammer Barrett all over the body and several times had him staggering.

Barrett was knocked out in the sixth with a left to the stomach. George Chanev of Baltimore, knocked out Allie Neck of New York in the opening round of their scheduled eight round contest.

Phil (Ko) Kaplan, Jersey City, gave Joe Jackson, Philadelphia, a severe hammering in the second bout, and won by a wide margin.

Earl France of Los Angeles, shaded Tim Tuomey of Lancaster, in a clever, clean eight-round bout. Not once during the contest did referee Cuth have to put his hand on either man or step between them to prevent hitting in the break-away.

More than 20,000 persons, one of the largest crowds that ever attended a boxing match in this city was present.

The fighters weighed in at ring side, both tipping the beam at 137 1/2 pounds.

Norman Taylor, one of the promoters of the show, was chosen to referee.

GIANT KILLER READY FOR ANYBODY REGARDLESS OF SIZE

By Billy Evans
Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh "Giant Killer," doesn't bar any fighter in the business.

After his bout with Tommy Gibbons last winter I asked Greb what he thought about a match with Champion Jack Dempsey.

"I know it is going to make some people laugh," he replied, "but I am positive I can defeat Dempsey in a 12 or 15-round decision bout."

"Of course I wouldn't expect to knock Dempsey out. My biggest thought would be to keep from getting knocked out."

"That is all I would have to do in order to win a decision bout with Dempsey, who is no harder to hit than Gibbons, and who, I feel sure, would have as much trouble reaching me as Gibbons did."

Has No Fear
"I haven't the slightest fear of Dempsey, regardless of the fact that all the experts say he is much too big for me. When a fighter enters the ring there is always the danger that he may be knocked out. That is the only thing I would have to guard against."

"Dempsey is strong and can hit. If he reached me on the button it would be curtains. However, I feel that in a limited bout I would be able to stay away from him. In the meantime I would be doing so much execution that the judges would have to award me the decision."

That was the way Greb sized up Dempsey for me after the Gibbons fight.

Gibbons practically had been matched to meet Dempsey. The bout with Greb was not treated seriously. Gibbons' defeat at Greb's hands cost him a fortune.

Greb failed to receive the credit due him for his win over Gibbons. In many quarters it was regarded in the nature of a fluke—an off night for Gibbons.

Tunney Disposed Of

Then Greb was matched with Gene Tunney, holder of the light heavyweight title of America. Tunney has seen Greb fight. He figured he knew the system that would beat him. Greb defeated Tunney even more decisively than he outpointed Gibbons.

Now they are talking of a bout with Georges Carpentier, who holds the world's light heavy title. Such a match would attract widespread attention and prove a popular dish for fight fans.

I recently had a talk with Greb after he had beaten Tunney. Once again I put to him the question of a match with Dempsey. His reply was the same as when I queried him last winter.

"I feel positive I can win a decision over Dempsey in a 12 or 15-round bout."

Greb is willing also—yes, even anxious to take on Georges Carpentier before a Dempsey match.

Would Settle Matters
"A meeting with Carpentier would please me immensely," said Greb. "It would determine whether the Frenchman or myself is entitled to fight Dempsey."

"I am positive if I meet Carpentier there will be no further demand for a battle in England or France with Dempsey."

"Size isn't everything in the fight game. I believe I have convinced the public that a good little man is much better than a fair big one."

"I have polished off Tommy Gibbons, Charley Weinert, Gene Tunney, Captain Roper and a number of other husky heavyweights without any trouble."

LeROY HAS HARD FIGHT IN FARGO

Fargo, N. D., June 7.—Eddie Boehme of Milwaukee lived right up to the advance publicity of the "toughest opposition" Russ LeRoy has ever faced and the local lightweight idol was forced to give the best he had to get a draw with the visiting battler at the Fargo auditorium. At the start of the fight Russ danced around his opponent and scored enough blows to give him the round easily. In the second stanza the visitor opened up, however, and Russ allowed himself to be brought into close quarters with Boehme who ate the local boy up on the infighting.

It was one of the prettiest fights ever seen in the city. Boehme showed himself a lightweight of real ability. He was aggressive and kept after Russ all the time. LeRoy was not quite up to his usual form and seemed to lack some of his speed. The only weak chain in LeRoy's battle was his inability to sew up his opponent in the clinches.

TENDLER MATCHED.

New York, June 7.—Low Tandler signed contract for a bout with Benny Leonard, world lightweight champion, at the Jersey City arena July 30, was received here by Tex Rickard. Leonard is expected to sign the articles without delay.

MANDAN BOY HEADS TEAM

Lafayette, Ind., June 7.—Richard L. Harrison of Mandan, N. D., and a junior in the school of civil engineering, was elected captain of the 1932 Purdue track team, at a meeting of the twenty-one letter men of the squad. The election, which was unanimous, was quite popular on the campus where the crack half-miler is well liked. Harrison is completing his second year as a member of the Purdue squad, and has been a most consistent point winner in the distance runs.

GOLF IS BEST SPORT OF ALL, SAYS "BERTIE"

Cleveland, June 7.—Golf, although still in the infant stage in this country, is destined to become the national pastime, according to W. H. ("Bertie") Way, professional at the Mayfield Golf club here.

"Baseball can't be beat as an entertaining sport for the masses," he said, "but when it comes to actual personal enjoyment in one's own achievements, there is no greater field than golf."

When asked why Cleveland cannot cult to field bunts. Opposing teams soon discovered his weakness and made it as uncomfortable as possible for him.

The cubs no doubt retain a string on York. It is believed a season or two in the minors will overcome his weakness. If he learns to handle bunts he is sure of a major league berth.

A twelfth of a second is estimated to be the time required for the human mind to conceive a single thought.

Fielding Bunts York's Puzzle

Big and Husky, But Has One Weakness to Overcome

Inability to field bunts is a handicap Jim York must overcome if he ever expects to shine as a big leaguer. York, who goes to Los Angeles from the Chicago Cubs as part payment for Outfielder Arnold Stutz, has plenty of stuff, but lacks experience. York's greatest trouble last year was his fielding rather than pitching. A big husky fellow, he found it difficult to field bunts.
